CAMWS EXCAVATION/ FIELD SCHOOL AWARD

The Classical Association of the Middle West and South annually awards three $2000.00 scholarships for participation in summer excavation or field school at an archaeological site in the Greco-Roman world. These awards may support individuals engaged in any stage of the work, including physical excavation, illustration, digital recording, faunal and ceramic analysis. One of these awards is named in honor of former CAMWS president Peter Knox of Case Western Reserve University. A second award honors the memory of C. McKenzie Lewis. Generally, one award will be made to at least one graduate student and another to an undergraduate, but teachers at all levels of instruction are also eligible for this award. Professional archaeologists are not eligible for this award.

To be eligible for this award, one must be a current member of CAMWS who either

- holds a teaching position in Greek or Latin in an elementary, secondary school or university within CAMWS territory
- is enrolled as an undergraduate or graduate student in a degree-granting program in Classics or who is enrolled in a program in History, Art History, Anthropology or Archaeology, with a primary academic focus on the Greco-Roman world

While priority will be given to applicants who have not had previous excavation experience in the Greco-Roman world, applicants returning to the field are also encouraged to apply.

Recipients are encouraged to accept the award in person at the annual CAMWS business meeting.

Application materials are reviewed at the beginning of the calendar year and awards are announced at the annual CAMWS business meeting.

To apply for an award, please submit online application form by January 30th of each year.

Winners of 2022-2023 Excavation/Field School Awards are:

Rachel Sarvey (University of North Carolina - Chapel Hill)- Peter Knox Award

Jenna Martin (University of Arkansas) - C. McKenzie Lewis Award

Colby Shelton (University of North Carolina - Greensboro)
