

The College Greek Exam

ἡ δοκιμασία τοῦ λόγου τε καὶ τοῦ νοῦ.

---

January 17, 2017

Χαῖρε!

Welcome to the College Greek Exam (CGE), the first and only nationally standardized exam for assessing students in their first year of college-level Greek (normally in their second semester). We are hoping you and your students will participate in the Ninth Annual (2017) exam. In addition to the standard exam for first-year students, we are adding a NEW EXAM on Attic Tragedy!

The 2017 syllabus is posted at www.dramata.com. The grammatical material remains the same as in recent years and is geared not toward any specific textbook but based on frequency of forms and constructions, chosen with the idea that these are fundamental concepts for any beginning reader of ancient Greek (Attic or Koine). Similarly, the vocabulary is chosen on the basis of frequency across a wide variety of texts and with the idea that the list will constitute a useful core for readers of diverse interests. The syllabus, previous exams, reports, and more are posted as well. The NEW Attic Tragedy results from a collaboration with the National Greek Exam. The syllabus and format (linked here) are the same. This exam should be administered to undergraduates at the intermediate or advanced levels.

We would like to target the week of March 6-10, 2017 for administering the exam. If your school happens to be on break that week, we ask that you notify us in advance and you may administer the exam the week of February 27-March 3. In any case, completed exams must be received by March 31 to be scored. If you are interested in participating in the exam, please let one of us know via e-mail by January 31, 2016; tell us how many exams you will need and confirm an address for mailing them. This year we are again asking what beginning Greek textbook your program is using. This information is only for internal use by the committee to make sure that our exam reflects the material that will be familiar to the students who participate and will not be part of the scoring or published report on the exam. We are continuing to develop a digital version of the exam in the hopes of making the exam available online next year. We welcome any recommendations you have on this process.

Once again, because of support from the Committee for the Promotion of Greek (part of NCLG; see www.promotelatin.org), Louisiana State University, and Monmouth College, there will be NO CHARGE for exams this year. Through the generosity of Eta Sigma Phi and the University of Georgia, there is now be a stabilized procedure for awarding medals and ribbons (and continuing recognition of the top score at each school). Reports and summaries also provide data for schools for assessment purposes. We hope you will offer feedback on the syllabus and exam so that it can continue to improve each year. Your perspective will be very valuable.

Sincerely,

College Greek Exam Committee:

Wilfred E. Major, Chair (wmajor@lsu.edu)
Antonios Augoustakis (aaugoust@illinois.edu)
Carolyn Hahnemann (hahnemannc@kenyon.edu)

Mary Pendergraft (pender@wfu.edu)
Tom Sienkewicz (toms@monm.edu)
Albert Watanabe (awatan@lsu.edu)